

Dear Parents and/or Carers

Claire who runs Forest Yogi Minds is running a whole day forest school day in the upcoming half term, as well as two whole day forest school days in the summer holidays.

The Forest School Days are run at the National Trust forest school site at Fontmell Down. It is a lovely site and the days are full of all kinds of forest school adventures as well as crafts, campfires, hammocks, swinging and dens, using tools and lots of fun making new friends.

There are spaces available and should you wish to book here is the link;
